Re: Gregory Caton

Dear Judge Melancon:

This company was formed in connection with the purchase of certain assets from Mr. Caton for the manufacturing of a food preservative. We employ Mr. Caton as a consultant in connection with a pending patent. It is our intent to attend a trade show known as the Institute of Food Technologists (www.ift.org) being held in Las Vegas from July 13 through July 16, 2004.

It is our hope that you consider modifying Mr. Caton's travel restrictions to allow him to assist us since he is the only person with any experience concerning trade shows. My partner, Tim Vaughan, would accompany him. It is my intent to attend at least some of the trade show if my schedule will permit. Mr. Ronald Helo has advised Mr. Caton that, if permitted to attend the show, he would be required to register with the Las Vegas Police Department. That being the case, the proposed itinerary is for Mr. Caton and Mr. Vaughan to fly to Las Vegas on July 11, 2004, register with the law enforcement office designated by Mr. Helo, set up the company's display on July 12, participate in the trade show and return to Lake Charles on July 17, 2004.

The decision to submit this request was made by me only after it became obvious that Mr. Caton cannot adequately train other employees to effectively present our product at this trade show. We have made a substantial investment which has been proven to be successful. If we can be successful at the trade show, it is entirely conceivable that we will be able to implement a major expansion and significant increase of the number of people we employ. Although I realize this is a major request, I do so in light of the opportunity presented, my confidence that Mr. Caton does not pose the risk of flight and that we have no option of obtaining the necessary expertise. Your consideration of this request is sincerely appreciated. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you wish additional information or to otherwise discuss the matter.

Sincerely,
